Laughter Yoga

A few years ago, Dr. Madan Kataria, a doctor from Mumbai, India, wrote an article called “Laughter- The Best Medicine”. In the article, he said people shouldn’t be sad all the time. They should laugh more: laughing is good for your health. He decided to test his idea so he went to his local park with four other people and spent the day laughing. This was the first laughing club. Other people in the park enjoyed watching them and wanted to join their club. Soon, there were fifty people in the group.

At first, they stood in a circle, while one person told a joke or a funny story. Everybody enjoyed the jokes and stories and felt good for the rest of the day. But after two weeks there was a problem. People had no more jokes to tell. Then Dr Kataria had a new idea. He decided that our bodies cannot tell the difference between fake and real laughter. He decided that we can teach ourselves to laugh. He tried this with the group and the results were amazing. At first people acted their laughter, but after ten minutes everybody was laughing naturally. It was the start of laughter yoga. Today laughter yoga is popular all over the world.
